DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-23 and 35-38, drawn to the method of forming a waveguide with fixing optical elements, classified in class 264, subclass 1.25.
- II. Claims 24-34, drawn to the method of forming a waveguide by providing a blob over the optical surface of the optical elements, classified in class 264, subclass 1.25.
- III. Claims 39-46, drawn to a method of forming an optical path, classified in class 356, subclass 73.1.
- IV. Claims 47-52, drawn to a waveguide comprising a blob over optical surfaces of optical elements, classified in class 385, subclass 50.
- V. Claims 53-60, drawn to a waveguide comprising optical elements fixed relative to each other, classified in class 385, subclass 33.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and V and II and IV are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the waveguide can be made of silicon glass or the mirror could be integral to a substrate or mount, among many other different possibilities.

Inventions III and IV and V are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the process for using the product (group III) can be practiced with optical fiber segments and/or fiber segments in connectorized ferrule structures that can be used to couple the waveguides.

Inventions I and II and IV and V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions I and II and IV and V are not capable of use together since they are two different structures used to couple that light and they of different modes of operation since a blob of copolymer will reflect and transmit light differently than over free space or a mirror.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for the each group is not required for the other groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
